Department of Senior Services Celebrates Volunteerism

Jonesboro- A Volunteer Appreciation Dinner was recently held at the J. Charley Griswell Senior Center in Jonesboro, GA. Clayton County's Senior Services Department and its community partners honored the men and women who freely give of their time and skills in order to help improve the quality of life for the county's senior adult residents. This was the first year that all three programs that operate under Senior Services have come together to acknowledge volunteers from the various areas within the department: the Senior Centers, the Kinship Care Center, and the Meals on Wheels program.

Clayton County's Senior Services Department provides area seniors with many volunteer opportunities. Adults 55 and older can volunteer at the county's Senior Centers and with the aging program. Volunteers have the opportunity to contribute their time and talents through the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) sponsored by the Atlanta Regional Commission (ARC) or directly with the J. Charley Griswell Senior Center or the Frank Bailey Senior Center.

The 2010-2011 Clayton County Senior Services honored over 100 volunteers during the dinner. Attached is a complete listing of the winners.

County officials were also present to honor the volunteers including Chairman Eldrin Bell, Commissioner Wole Ralph, (District 3), and Sheriff Kem Kimrough.
