Clayton County Fire and Emergency Personnel to Receive Chick-fil-A Lunches

Senior Services Department will deliver hot lunches to 14 county Fire Stations

Jonesboro- Fire and Emergency Services personnel in Clayton County will be treated to a special delivery appreciation lunch on Tuesday, September 13, 2011. The Board of Commissioners, Senior Services, and community volunteers will show their appreciation to county fire and emergency personnel on Tuesday beginning at 11:30 a.m. when they deliver Chick-fil-A lunches to the county's 14 fire stations.

The appreciation lunches are in tribute to the men and women of Clayton County Fire and Emergency Services Department who put their lives on the line daily for county residents. The lunches are also being given out in honor of their fellow September 11th first responders who valiantly served our nation during one of its most darkest and tragic times.

"The responses that we have received for our Fire and Emergency Services Appreciation Lunch has been overwhelming", said director of Senior Services, Mary Byrd. "Initially, we had selected three county fire stations to deliver the hot lunches to on Tuesday but with the support of the Jonesboro Chick-fil-A Dwarf House on Tara Boulevard, who is an amazing community partner in Clayton County. We now have the resources to deliver to all of the county's fire station personnel that will be on call that day! The Board of Commissioners and Clayton County community have truly rallied around us for this very deserving tribute."

Senior Services will coordinate the loading and transporting of the appreciation lunches from the Shelnut Inter-generational Center located at 849 Battle Creek Road, Jonesboro, GA. With the assistance of Chick-fil-A, the Board of Commissioners and over 100 very appreciative county residents, local fire and emergency personnel will be treated to a lunch packed full of food and love.
