Chairman Jeffrey E. Turner's Newsletter

A Message from Jeffrey E. Turner, Chairman Clayton County Board of Commissioners

Dear Clayton County Community,

I am excited to highlight some of the amazing activities and resources we have available within our different cities and throughout Clayton County. I want to express my gratitude to all the municipalities, employees, residents, volunteers, the business community and partnerships that make Clayton County a great place to live, work and play. I am proud of the notable progress in our county we have made working together and with others. So, as we look to the future, let us continue to explore more opportunities to bring additional resources to Clayton County. With your continued support, the Board of Commissioners and I are vested in the continued progress and success of Clayton County! I look forward to our diverse community working together to seek solutions to any challenges we may encounter. So, as we plan for the future, I am hopeful that we are all onboard to fly this journey together as a community.

Yours in service,

Jeffrey E. Turner

Chairman, Jeffrey E. Turner

The Veteran of the Month

Yeoman-Seaman Shontell N. Saunders-Murphy was born and raised in Detroit, Michigan. She joined the U.S. Navy in 1993 and served as Head Master at Arms while in boot camp and while in training school. Shontell became the Yeoman to the Captain and the XO (Executive Officer) of the Recruit Training Command in Orlando, Florida, which was also her first duty station.

Shontell had to end her military career prematurely in 1995 when her newborn daughter was diagnosed with Sickle Cell Beta Thalassemia. Being a single mom at the time, she decided to be honorably discharged to educate herself about her daughter's diagnosis.

To further her education, Shontell attended the University of Phoenix and earned an Associate degree in Business and a dual Bachelor's degree in Business Administration/Healthcare Management from Central Christian College in Kansas. Her educational experience led her to work for United Healthcare as a Network Contract Manager, where she negotiated physician contracts for the Veterans Affairs Community Care Network (VACCN).

Shontell is a proud mother of three daughters, aged 28, 22, and 19, and two granddaughters aged 5 and 2.5, as well as two grandsons aged 8 and 6 months. She is also the Public Relations Officer for AMVETS Department of Georgia and AMVETS POST 9-1-1 in Southwest Atlanta. Shontell's passion is advocating for veterans and their families and others in need in the community.

In her free time, Shontell enjoys spending time with her family, volunteering to help veterans in the community, traveling, and building her Real Estate and E-commerce empire.

How to Manage your Mental Health around the Holidays!

Some signs you may be struggling around the holidays:

1. Lacking the “Holiday Spirit”

You Can: Find out what makes you anxious or sad around the holidays so you can navigate the rest of the season and try to avoid or manage these triggers.

2. Overwhelmed by Grief and Loss

You Can: Connect with a support group, a therapist, or friends who understand. Understand you do not need to force yourself to celebrate.

3. You’re Feeling Pressured to Participate in Activities-and Want No Part of Them

You Can: Communicating your intentions to friends and family early in the holiday season can help.
Opt out for an activity you do want to do- something you enjoy like a Netflix marathon.

4. You’re Stressed About Giving Gifts

You Can: Set realistic expectations on what you can spend financially and stick to a budget. We create this anxiety and we can reduce it.

5. You’re Mood is being Affected by the Lack of Sunlight

You Can: Get outside in the middle of the day when the sun is brightest. Boost your mood with warm, bright lighting at home and sit near a window at work or home when possible.

6. Feeling Alone or Feeling Isolated

You Can: Take advantage of other ways to connect like sending out holiday cards, calling someone, texting someone, or reaching out on social media.
